January - June 2002

Gambling Commission Asset Forfeiture Case is Successful

Director Rick Day recently accepted a check for $11,000 on behalf of the Gambling Commission from Charles Mandigo, Special Agent in Charge of the FBI in Seattle. The check represents the Commission's share of seized assets from a joint investigation that was conducted in Spokane in 1999-2000.

In this case, an investigation by a WSGC Special Investigations agent uncovered a major bookmaking operation involving organized crime spreading across the United States and beyond. The case involved a former Mafia informant who set up a computerized bookmaking operation in a Spokane espresso business that never brewed a drop. The operation employed 15 bookies that processed at least $100,000 a week in bets in Spokane with over 360 active bettors who were given code names to call in their bets. In addition, it had ties to East Coast bookies.

The kingpin in Spokane, Nicholas Mitola Jr., pled guilty in federal court and received a prison sentence along with several associates. Additional ongoing investigations may lead to Washington State charges being filed against bettors and other persons involved. During the service of search warrants, a large sum of cash was seized. It was processed in the federal system by the Asset Forfeiture and Money Laundering section of the United States Department of Justice. Although a portion did get returned, the remainder was seized under law. The Gambling Commission was awarded the $11,000 check as a sharing partner with the FBI.

Mandatory Training Review

Did you find the WSGC card room training class you attended helpful? Were the topics covered relevant to your job duties? We are interested in hearing your comments on our Training Program, which began in 1988.

During the past several months, a Committee of agency staff have been looking at ways to make licensee training more effective and accessible. The Committee will be examining the curriculum offered for all licensed activities. As part of the review, the Committee will be discussing whether to continue making training a pre-licensing mandatory requirement. We have had success using mandatory training to gain voluntary compliance through education; however, we feel the same goal can be achieved using new approaches.

Based on input received from card room employees and operators, the card room class was changed in April 2002. The new format has reduced the training from two hours to one hour. Current training now focuses on impacts of regulatory and criminal violations, especially those which appear most often in administrative cases and Notice of Violation and Settlement (NOVAS) citations. The responsibility for training the technical aspects of the job, such as dealing, surveillance, cage requirements, etc. is now up to card room management, rather than the Commission.

The card room training program is still under review by the Committee and additional changes may occur in the fall. One option the Committee is considering is turning over the training materials from the current one-hour class, to the management of each card room. If this new system is put into place, card room operators currently licensed will be trained by their WSGC field agent on the material they will be responsible for passing along to their card room employees. New card room owners/management will be trained by adding information from the instructor led classes into the Pre-operation Review and Evaluation (P.O.R.E.). Card room owners/management will satisfy the mandatory training requirement during a P.O.R.E. Each card room would then be required to train card room employees on regulatory and criminal violations. Documentation that training took place would be required in each card room employee's application packet. If this change in training is adopted, there will be no card room training offered by the Commission.

Please forward your comments or suggestions about the training program to Cindy Reed at (253) 471-5312, ext. 238 or via e-mail at cindyr@wsgc.wa.gov.

Welcome to Commissioner Niemi

On February 5, 2002, Governor Locke appointed Janice Niemi to the Gambling Commission. She will complete the unexpired portion of former Commissioner Marshall Forrest's term. She will then start her full six-year term, which will end June 30, 2008.

Commissioner Niemi's career before retirement was varied and includes:

- Service in the Federal Government as a Foreign Service Staffer and Deputy General Counsel of the Small Business Administration;
- Elected to the Washington State Legislature as a House member from 1983 to 1987 and Senator from 1987 to 1994;
- Various positions as a District Court Judge from 1971 to 1973, judge pro tem and Superior Court Judge from 1973 to 1978, and 1995 to 2000 when she retired.

Commissioner Niemi began her duties at the February 2002, Commission meeting. She looks forward to the Gambling Commission as another new and interesting assignment.

A Letter to Card Room Operators

Neal Nunamaker, Agent in Charge
Licensing Investigations

Our Legal Department has processed many cases based on criminal history information disclosures. Following is a letter recently sent to all card room operators in an effort to help them comply with the disclosure requirements. We are reprinting the letter here as a reminder to all our licensees who require an individual gambling license for any workers, staff or executive board officers.

Dear Card Room Operator:

Your most important responsibility is making decisions about hiring card room employees to work in your business. Laws and rules clearly state it is your job to ensure that potential employees who may not qualify for licensing are prevented from working in your gambling business prior to being licensed by the Gambling Commission.

As owner/officer of a licensed establishment, it is your responsibility to review an applicant's Criminal History Statement for adverse information that could preclude them from being issued a gambling license in Washington State. RCW 9.46.075, 9.46.158, and WAC 230-04-400 should be your guide in determining whether you allow a card room employee to work prior to receiving a license from the Commission.

Here are examples of disqualifying criminal history information that would prevent an applicant from working prior to licensing:

- A felony conviction
- A gambling related conviction
- Current, active court supervision (probation, deferral)
- Current or pending prosecution for a crime
- Probation Violations
- Outstanding arrest warrants
- Extensive criminal history or pattern of criminal or traffic violations
- Previous revocation or denial of license application by the Gambling commission or other regulatory agency.

RCW 9.46.158 states that an operator shall not knowingly permit an applicant or licensee with criminal history to work in the management or operation of any gambling activity regulated by the commission without prior approval. Failure to meet this obligation could result in suspension or revocation of your gambling license(s). Compliance with these rules will help you avoid unnecessary delays and expense in hiring individuals that do not meet licensing requirements.

The Commission is aware there are instances when an applicant does not fully disclose their criminal history to you on the criminal history statement. Although the card room operator would not be in violation in this instance, failure of an applicant to disclose criminal history is also sufficient grounds for denial of their card room employee license. This further complicates your hiring process.

Please take a close look at the information submitted by applicants on their criminal history statement, and take time to discuss it with them. Discussion should include the applicant's complete disclosure of all charges regardless of how serious any charge was, when it occurred, or the final disposition (not guilty, deferred, dismissed, etc). We recommend prior to performing this review process with applicants that you become familiar with the licensing criteria contained in RCW 9.46.075 and WAC 230-04-400.

A good working awareness of the statutes and rules will assist you in making proper decisions on allowing card room employee applicants to work.

If you terminate a card room applicant before they receive a license, please notify Licensing Technician Supervisor Dawn Warren at (360) 486-3546 so we can focus our efforts on processing applicants you still want to hire.

If you have questions about your potential employee, please contact the Licensing Operations Division at (360) 486-3570.

2002 Legislative Session

The following bills passed and were signed by Governor Locke. They became effective on June 13, 2002.

Cheating Bill: Senate Bill 5064 allows up to a $20,000 fine as the penalty for cheating. First Degree Cheating was reduced from a Class B to Class C felony.

Fingerprint Bill: Senate Bill 6491 was a joint agency-request bill for the Gambling Commission and the Liquor Control Board regarding criminal background checks. The amendment clarifies the Commission's ability to perform fingerprinting and National Criminal History background checks on applicants for a gambling license. The new law requires the Commission to identify which persons named on an application are subject to the National Criminal History Background Checks. Therefore, WAC 230-04-180 will be amended to clarify which applicants are subject to the background checks. We anticipate the amended rule will be adopted at the August 9, 2002, Commission meeting. This will not impose any additional requirements on applications.

Electronic Benefit Cards Bill: Substitute House Bill 2767 (copy on page 21) prevents Electronic Benefits Transfer cards, which are for public assistance and food stamps, from being used for gambling purposes. See the next article for more information about this new law.

Alert from the Department of Social and Health Services

It is now illegal for public assistance clients to use an Electronic Benefits Transfer (EBT) card to gamble. Licensees regulated by the Gambling, Lottery and Horse Racing Commissions are prohibited from allowing the use of public assistance EBT cards for gambling.

On July 1, 2002, the Department of Social and Health Services (DSHS) provided a notice in eight languages (English, Cambodian, Laotian, Vietnamese, Chinese, Korean, Russian, and Spanish) to clients receiving their cash grants on an EBT card.

If you are a licensee offering gambling activities, you are required to report any violations of this law to DSHS. Des Boucher, from the Electronic Benefits Transfer Project, has been designated as the person responsible for taking and investigating the reports. His number is (360) 413-3347.

If you have any questions about this new law, please contact Renia Neuhauser of DSHS at (360) 413-3309.

Newsletter Changes

Message from your new editor: Susan Arland

We want to hear your comments about this Newsletter. Do you find it helpful? Could it contain other information that you would find helpful? Please contact me at 1-800-345-2529, ext. 3466 or at Susana@wsgc.wa.gov and let me know your comments.

Part of our efforts to economize due to the budget challenges addressed in Director Day's message on page 7 involve the agency's newsletters.

We will continue to issue the Card Room Connection twice a year. However, beginning with the next newsletter, we will be distributing the Card Room Connection directly to card rooms, rather than sending copies to each card room employee. We ask that each card room make the newsletter available to their card room employees.

In 1998, six editions of the WSGC Focus on Gambling newsletter were distributed to all licensees (a total of 36,000 copies for the year) for a cost of $29,000. In 1999, distribution of the six editions increased to a total 51,000 copies for the year, for a cost of $32,000.

In an effort to reduce growing newsletter costs, the Card Room Connection was introduced in 2000. This newsletter targets the growing card room industry and provides information that we feel is relevant to your industry, rather than all gambling activities. The Focus on Gambling Newsletter continues to be distributed to all licensees, except for card room employees.

In 2000, the Card Room Connection reduced the yearly cost to publish both newsletters to $25,800. In 2001, the combined cost for the Focus on Gambling and the Card Room Connection newsletters were $20,500.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank Cindy Reed for her outstanding job as Newsletter Editor for the past decade. Cindy is now working as a Special Agent in our Tacoma Field Office. Cindy was dedicated to writing and soliciting articles that were most relevant for both the Card Room Connection and the Focus on Gambling Newsletters. She is also responsible for the idea and development of the Card Room Connection, which not only saves agency funds, but brings you relevant information for your job.

Cindy leaves big shoes to fill and I will do my best to live up to the high standards she has set for our agency's two licensee newsletters. Please join me in thanking Cindy for her years of hard work on our newsletters and wish her success in her new duties as Kitsap County's Field Agent.

Card Room Operators are Required to Report Loans

It is an old and sometimes forgotten rule, but it is an important rule.

WAC 230-12-305(4) requires all applicants and licensees, except those with individual licenses (card room employees, etc.), to report and submit documents to the Commission for all new loans received from sources other than a recognized financial institution which individually or collectively exceed a total of $2,000 during any calendar year.

For the purposes of WAC 230-12-305(4), a financial institution is a federal or state chartered lending institution that is federally insured and regulated and examined by a financial institution regulatory agency of the state or federal government.

What this means is that loans received from owners, partners, members, or stockholders must be disclosed.

The new or updated documents shall be submitted to the Commission by notation on the next quarterly activity report filed, and by attaching all details concerning each transaction.

Licensees which are not required to submit quarterly activity reports shall submit the required information no later than sixty days following the transaction(s) date.

All supporting documents should be submitted when reporting the loan. Information shall include, at a minimum, the loan amount, name of the person or institution who loaned you the money, date of the loan, and terms of the loan.

Following is a quiz to help you in identify when loans should be reported to the Commission:

Are you required to report receiving a loan of:	Yes	No
1. $8,500 from your brother?	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
2. $2,500 from the Bank of North America?	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
3. $10,000 from the Legal Financial Services Corp?	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
4. $25,000 from Acme Bank of America?	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
5. $5,000 from a stockholder?	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

If you answered, "yes" to 1, 3, and 5; and "no" to 2 and 4, then you are correct. Your brother, the Legal Financial Services Corp., and a stockholder do not qualify as a recognized financial institution.

Please do not hesitate to call the Licensing Investigations at (800) 345-2529 ext. 3559, if you have questions on when to report a loan.

Budget Information from Director Day

The mission of the Washington State Gambling Commission is to protect the public by ensuring that gambling is legal and honest. The Commission is delegated the sole authority to license and regulate authorized social gambling activities and tribal gaming activities pursuant to tribal/state compacts. The agency is also directed to control unauthorized gambling activities. These responsibilities are accomplished through the administration of a statewide regulation and control program in cooperation with all other law enforcement agencies.

The agency has been implementing reduction, efficiency, and reorganization decisions necessary in reaction to the legislative reduction of $2.45 million from the Commission's fund balance, a projected revenue shortfall caused by fewer house-banked card rooms (HBCR) than were originally projected when the program was first implemented, and by an error in projections of card room employee licensing revenue.

The primary focus was to accommodate the reductions while maintaining the Commission's regulatory activity. The agency recognized that freezing the hiring of staff and freezing equipment purchases did little over the long term. In fact, decisions like postponing technology investments could actually increase the agency's costs. Such cuts achieve a one-time benefit and can actually damage long-term agency efficiencies. The agency also recognized that any effort to eliminate agent positions and line services would directly affect the Commission's ability to provide the services that have been paid for by our licensees, and services expected by the public.

Ultimately, the decision was made to direct the cut at the agency's management level. The agency has undertaken measures to realign various duties, responsibilities and positions to create an efficient organizational structure designed to prepare the agency for the future. (See page 2 for current organizational chart.) In support of the agency reductions, the Commissioners also cancelled the September 2002, Commission Meeting.

Other specific reduction actions taken included:

❖ Eliminating resources for unrealized house-banked card room growth (17 positions)	$ 874,000
❖ Reorganization of operational duties (3 positions)	$ 241,000
❖ Eliminate Council on Problem Gambling Contract	$ 150,000
❖ Reduce six management positions	$ 377,000
❖ Manage operations to achieve 2.5 percent vacancy rate	$ 177,000
❖ Defer Information Technology initiatives	$ 127,000
Total Reduced	$1,946,000

The Commission's budget plan for Fiscal Year 2003 reduces expenditures by almost $2.45 million. The budget being developed for the 2003-2005 Biennium will be approximately $28.7 million, which is more than $1.4 million below the budget authorized by the Commission for the current biennium.

At this point, licensees should not see a direct impact to licensing or field services. However, the reduction of the September 2002, Commission meeting may cause some delays or scheduling complications. The agency is continuing to look for efficiencies and ways to streamline service delivery, and as these concepts are identified and implemented, licensees may experience some future impacts.

The Commission is continuing to work with staff from the Office of Financial Management and appropriate Legislative representatives to prevent future fund transfers from the Gambling Commission Revolving Fund. As we guide the agency through this difficult period, we remain committed to being a premier gambling regulatory agency committed to sustaining a principled, fair and consistent regulatory environment.

Promotions Rules Package Adopted at the May 2002 Commission Meeting

GAMBLING PROMOTIONS – These rules became effective July 1, 2002.

There has been a general prohibition against licensees giving credit, loans or gifts to persons participating in gambling activities. Over the years, the commission has granted specific exceptions to this general prohibition. Last year, gambling promotions were discussed at several commission meetings and more requests for exceptions were under consideration. As such, staff felt it was an appropriate time to address all promotions, rather than continuing to make exceptions to the general prohibition.

Therefore, during the last year, staff have discussed gambling promotions with all licensees. There were some disagreements with the proposed rules, such as the $500 limit on promotional items. However, the Commission felt the monetary limit was required as a part of the agency's regulatory program. This rules package sets forth the parameters licensees must follow when offering promotions in conjunction with gambling activities; therefore, staff will no longer need to review individual promotions.

Rule Up for Final Action at the August Commission Meeting

PETITION FOR RULE CHANGE TO POKER RULES SUBMITTED BY SHERRY GILLARD.

A petition for rule change from Sherry Gillard was filed at the May commission meeting. Ms. Gillard is a licensed card room employee and poker player and has requested an amendment to WAC 230-40-610(6).

Currently, WAC 230-40-610 requires card room owners and on-duty card room employees that are playing in a poker game with a player-supported jackpot to show their hands at the end of play when the prize is not based upon a predetermined hand. This requirement prevents an owner or employee from folding their hand to avoid paying out a jackpot, which did occur.

Ms. Gillard is requesting a rule amendment so that card room owners and on-duty card room employees no longer have to show their cards unless there is possibility of a "bad beat" situation. Ms. Gillard feels that requiring owners and on-duty employees to show their cards after each game compromises their playing style and ability to effectively participate in a game. Staff supports Ms. Gillard's request for rule change.

We anticipate this amendment will be adopted at the August 9, 2002, Commission meeting, to become effective January 1, 2003.

The Promotions for Gambling Activities rules are included on pages 13 - 19.

The new Electronic Benefits Card Law, referenced in the articles on page four, is included on page 21.
